

RESTORATIVE TRAINING

Restorative Resources provides training and support for organizations and schools to create a safe, equitable space for coworkers, administration, teachers, and students to learn core values of respect, accountability, and the importance of acting from a position of empathy and understanding. A Restorative Organization or School translates into healthier relationships with coworkers, peers, administration, teachers, and students, resulting in a more engaged community on all levels and a positive work or school environment.

Restorative Resources will collaborate with your team to evaluate the needs of your organization and to tailor restorative solutions that will be most beneficial and designed to meet organizational needs. As issues arise, additional restorative services can be requested or suggested.
